

Keep in touch with Business Trends through The Herald's Saturday Business review. Page 2 today.

The Evening Herald

WANT ADS

For the Big Sunday Herald
Received Until 7 Tonight.

SUNDAY

ASSOCIATED PRESS
N. E. A. SERVICE

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, SATURDAY, MAY 27, 1922

THE NEWS THE DAY
IT HAPPENSPRICE
FIVE CENTS

WARD ORDERED RELEASED ON $80,000 BAIL

AN FOR GOALS WORK AGREED ON

Proposal for Develop- ment Follows Ford Terms

WASHINGTON, May 27.—(By Associated Press)—A proposal development of the government's nitrate and power projects in Muscle Shoals, Ala., was finalized upon today by the house energy committee, after more than three months continuous investigation and study of the offers by Henry Ford, the Alcoa power company, Frederick Strum and Charles L. Parsons. While the proposal was held in the confidence of the committee with regard to its various sections relating to development projects, it was learned that Gorgas, Ala., steam plant was ousted from the property to expand with Muscle Shoals, continuing that other railroads closely to the terms offered by Henry Ford.

A proposal was drafted by committee and committee members said represented a plan could submit to all persons interested for acceptance, regardless of whether they already made an offer for the Muscleshoals project. The committee's draft given to W. B. Mayo, chief engineer for Mr. Ford, who soon will leave here today for Detroit, was to confer with Detroit manufacturer and ascertain whether Mr. Ford was going to accept the terms laid down by committee. It was understood that the offer of the Gorgas steam from the properties at Muscle Shoals which Mr. Ford included in his proposal would be main obstruction in the way acceptance by Mr. Ford of the committee's plan. Mr. Mayo and Mr. Parsons had agreed before the committee declared ready that Mr. Ford held the plan to be necessary to scheme of developing the properties and also represented he would not agree to elimination from his offer.

Judge Fights enwood's Release From Penitentiary

VERMONT, May 27.—Judge C. Butler of the district court at Rutland, who as trial judge sentenced Harold F. Newell to hang, wrote to Gov. C. H. Shoup yesterday, pardoned Newell from the penitentiary, that "I recommend Newell's release." Newell was convicted of the murder of George E. Copeland, of Cripple Creek, mining S. L. (Tony) VonHill of whom Newell married over Mrs. John W. Grant, also was killed and W. A. Atkinson of Colorado was shot by a bullet made a cripple for life.

ui Indians New Mexico Again On a Rampage

MONTGOMERY, Ariz.—Yesterdays in southern Sonora, Mexico, on the rampage, and have again looted several towns in the last three weeks, among them a Tombstone resident returned here today after months in Mexico.

Weather

At the University
24 Hours. Edition 4-A. M.

Highest
temperature,
88; lowest
temperature,
52; daily range of temperature, 36; mean
temperature,
62; relative
humidity,
84 p. m.;
relative humidity,
84 a. m.
27; precipitation, maximum velocity
wind, miles per hour, 20;
gusting direction, west; character of the day, clear.

State Weather
Forecast: Fair tonight;
fair in west; scattered and probably showers and rain in northeast portion, and cloudy, fair tonight and warmer in northwest
tonight.

Next Week's Forecast:
WASHINGTON, May 27.—After another week for the weather Monday: Rocky Mountain and Plateau regions—Generally fair and moderate tem-

This Is the Man Who Won Peggy!

What do you suppose Henri Letellier is grinning about? His conquest of Peggy Joyce, divorcee of three millionaires. Observe Henri, and below—the beautiful Peggy. Henri is chewing his racetrack program at Longchamps, just after Peggy had left Paris for America; rather happily, too, even though it was because Peggy refused to give Henri up for a love-smitten Chilean who killed himself. Letellier is the owner of the Paris Journal and immensely wealthy.

TWO LABOR CZARS FREE ON BAIL

Chicago Court Re- leases 'Big Tim' Mur- phy and Fred Mader

CHICAGO, May 27.—"Big Tim" Murphy and Fred Mader, described as the Czars in whose prison term a labor man was ordered released from jail on bonds of $25,000 each. They had been confined in cells for eleven days after their arrest and indictment for the murder of police Lieutenant Lyons, one of two policemen shot to death May 7 while investigating bombing believed to be in protest of the Labor building trades wage award.

The order was issued by Judge Harry B. Miller and ended a ten day litigation in which the state attorneys had been successful in frustrating the efforts to release the two labor leaders. The accused were held two days longer than the additional time which the men were held, saying that to do so would weaken their case when the trial came up.

Judge Miller held that since no evidence against them was presented, he was compelled to exercise his power to release them on bail.

Murphy, Mader and their friends were overjoyed when the decision was announced. Mrs. Tim Murphy, mother of "Big Tim," jumped up on a chair and shouted "Hooray for Ireland! They shall keep my Timmy in jail for something he didn't do."

Judge Miller's decision was rendered under the Illinois law which provides that in such cases a judge may order bail if he is convinced that the evidence against the defendants is of such character that he believes they should not be deprived of their liberty pending trial. The state has never maintained that Murphy or Mader actually fired the shots which killed the two policemen. It holds that they instigated the crime.

Hadley Case to Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Herrell Remanded To Jail at Clovis On Murder Charge

(Continued from The Herald)
CLOVIS, N. M., May 27.—George E. Herrell who is charged with the killing of C. W. Prender when he drove four shots into his body following an altercation, while the two men were driving together in Prender's car south of this city on May 12 was remanded to jail today when Judge Sam G. Bratton denied habeas corpus petition. Herrell is held under ten thousand dollar bonds. Attorneys for defense contend there was not evidence of conspiracy in connection with the killing of Prender and that the charge should therefore be changed to second degree murder or manslaughter, which his attorney hoped to have his client reduced. They ask for a reduction of his bond in order that he might avoid jail confinement. Mrs. Hays is a daughter of Harry C. Miller, attorney for the defense.

Herrell was held in jail until two o'clock this morning when the men who were held, saying that to do so would weaken their case when the trial came up.

Judge Miller held that since no evidence against them was presented, he was compelled to exercise his power to release them on bail.

Murphy, Mader and their friends were overjoyed when the decision was announced. Mrs. Tim Murphy, mother of "Big Tim," jumped up on a chair and shouted "Hooray for Ireland! They shall keep my Timmy in jail for something he didn't do."

Judge Miller's decision was rendered under the Illinois law which provides that in such cases a judge may order bail if he is convinced that the evidence against the defendants is of such character that he believes they should not be deprived of their liberty pending trial. The state has never maintained that Murphy or Mader actually fired the shots which killed the two policemen. It holds that they instigated the crime.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has occupied a spectacular place in the attention of southern Arizona for the past week, having been attended continually by large crowds. Today is the seventh day of the trial which opened last Saturday at 1:30 p. m.

Hadley Case to
Go to Jury Tonight

TUCSON, Ariz.—With all evidence presented and cases rested by both state and defense, the trial of Paul V. Hadley, accused of homicide on a charge of first degree murder will be completed here this evening. Instructions have been given by Judge Samuel L. Patten in the superior court and argument was proceeding throughout today. Attorneys indicate that the argument will probably be completed by the early afternoon following which the case will go to the jury. The trial has